My Beloved Children, "It is with great heart that I greet you this day as our very subject is your heart! When we speak of your heart, of course you have your physical heart as part of your beautiful vessel. The heart we speak of today is your Heart Center, the place where within dwells the sacred spark that is your divine essence.

Each of you has your very own heart and yet you are a part of the One heart of all, the Sacred Heart. It is time for your awareness to be raised to the great blessing that your heart offers you, for as you begin to connect with your heart, the gateways to greater understanding will shower upon you, blessing you with even greater sparks of awareness of your sacred truth.

The Sacred spark, that light of your divine essence held within your sacred heart is your authentic truth guiding you on the many pathways of your journey. This sacred essence is the light, the love that fuels your life and expressions, which is leading you into a full remembering of your holy truth and purpose.

In these times of great change, the consciousness of the collective of Earth is reaching to elevate into greater wisdom and brighter awareness. There is a thirst for knowing and understanding more than ever before. In a quest for greater understanding, many are searching for the pathways of lightness. It is a time to remember more of your truth and sacred purpose for this lifetime. With this in mind, I bring to your awareness, your sacred heart for within your heart are the answers you seek. There is a treasury of knowledge and wisdom which lies within your heart.

Would it surprise you to know that you have a mind in your heart as well! It is called your heart mind. The heart mind is the way to heart consciousness and leads you on pathways of illumination and serenity.

When you learn how to connect with your heart mind and master being in this state of conscious awareness, all of your life experiences will be filled with great joy and infinite possibilities. As you begin to become aware of this sacred space, you will know more fully the sweetness, the stillness of serenity and grace, all flowing in a perpetual dance that enlivens and elevates. You see the pathways of the heart, of the heart mind and heart consciousness are always graceful.

Imagine living your life feeling the sweet silkiness of energy which is graceful, loving, very peaceful and filled with joy. There is no longer any resistance; there is only loving, the lightness of the dance of sweet presence of the essence of your divine true nature.

It is your divine birthright to learn and remember how to be in your heart, in heart consciousness and to master this natural ability.

Let us speak about grace and how it will assist you in your journey of remembering your sacred heart. Grace is a state of mind, a state of beingness. It exists within the present moment, an element of the unified field of consciousness. It is a component, a flavor of the sweetness of the light, the forever loving essence that you are intimately a part of.

Within the flowing energy of divine grace, there is a flowing of a loving presence of honor, devotion, celebration, joyfulness, serenity, wisdom and knowing acceptance without question of you and your magnificence. It feels as if you are held in such loving support, as a loving parent who loves you without any question, celebrating you and your journey of experiences into higher levels of conscious awareness and expression, knowing of your perfection always.

Imagine feeling this divine grace in every moment of your life experience! Grace flows to you perpetually within the fields of divine love that are your very source of self and of life. As you open your mind to this truth and choose to have greater awareness of this, you shall feel it even more, as if little drops of golden raindrops are dancing in your energy fields bringing sparkles of great joy, lighting pathways to your heart.

With a simple shift into the sweet focus of your heart, joy, grace and all of the many sweet flavors of Serenity, you will notice more opportunities to feel a deeper connection to your sacred heart and the true essence of yourself. Your journey will take on a new flavor of brightness, allowing you to navigate within the flow of grace to reach the levels of heightened awareness, creating new pathways of discovery of your magnificence.

Each of you are evolving at your own pace and choosing. As you focus on grace, allowing yourself to flow in the sweetness of grace, you will feel how the process of shifting into greater awareness can be much easier and simpler. You will begin to recognize what you have always been, a great master in the process of remembering your truth.

As you develop your heart consciousness and being in this state of being, you will also be developing your many abilities and attributes which are your divine birthright. To choose to elevate into the lighter pathways will bring you such joy as you remember and develop your mastery.

I celebrate you my beloveds, for this is the time you have dreamed into being. Let yourself flow within the rivers of grace, and allow yourself to be in joy. Your heart will guide you always, for love is always present.

You will feel my loving embrace ever more as you reach greater awareness. I am always here for you. I am the greatest supporter of you and your glorious journey. Call on me as you desire with the words Mother's Love and you shall feel my loving embrace, as I hold you in my arms in the dance of our forever oneness of heart."

*With great love,
